现在是听力试音时间。

M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we're a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we're growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er... what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now you can have the first month free.

W: Hey, John, what did you think of the movie last night?

M: I really loved the special effects. The action scenes were incredible! What about you?

W: I actually preferred the storyline. The themes of courage and personal growth were so powerful.

M: I thought it was good, but the plot felt a bit slow in some parts. The action kept me more engaged.

W: I see what you mean, but I think the ending was perfect. It really made me reflect on the characters' decisions.

M: Hmm, I thought it was a bit too predictable, but it wasn't bad.

M: Linda, I just read a news report about extreme high temperatures in Australia. In some regions, the temperature rose to over 40°C recently, which is way above the average for this season. This kind of abnormal heat has led to increased energy consumption.

W: That's terrible. It's all due to global warming. We should try to reduce our carbon footprint, like using less electricity and recycling more.

M: Definitely. I hope the weather improves soon. The forecast says it might clear up on Saturday—perfect for taking our daughter to the park. We could have a picnic there.

W: That sounds lovely. But if it's windy on Sunday, we could go to an exhibition instead. It'll be nice to expose our daughter to art.

M: Great idea. On Monday, I have to go on a business trip with my workmates. I hope the weather doesn't cause any flight delays.

W: Fingers crossed. We can always adjust our plans if needed.

M: Hey, Laura, do you have any New Year's resolutions for 2025?

W: Yes, Michael, I've decided to turn over a new leaf this year. I want to focus on being more active and finally stick to a fitness routine.

M: That's a great goal! How are you planning to make it happen?

W: I'm starting small—walking every evening and signing up for a yoga class. What about you? Any resolutions?

M: Of course! I want to start eating healthier. I've realized that my cooking, while tasty, isn't always nutritious. My strategy is to plan meals in advance and add more fresh vegetables to my diet.

W: Good idea! Building good habits takes discipline, but small, steady changes really help. Do you think we can support each other to stay on track?

M: Certainly! Maybe we can share progress updates every week to keep motivated. Starting fresh together sounds like a great way to stay committed.

W: Agreed. Let's make 2025 the year we achieve our goals!

W: Harry, congratulations on publishing your first book at just 18! Can you tell us about it?

M: Thank you! The book shows the breathtaking landscapes of East Anglia, from its endless coastlines to unique inland scenery. I want to encourage people to explore this beautiful place.

W: That's wonderful. When did you start your journey as a photographer?

M: Thank you! I began at 12, but things got serious when I sold my first photo for £40 at 15. Inspired by my parents, I turned my passion into a full-time career.

W: That's impressive. Your photos are known for their natural beauty. How do you achieve this?

M: I avoid editing software, focusing on untouched shots. I often visit a location many times and wait for the perfect moment to capture the right light.

W: You've been shortlisted for the Landscape Photographer of the Year 2020. What is the key to your success?

M: My success was down to "being very specific with my images" and a lot of planning. One shot can be four months in the planning.

W: Thank you, Harry. Your passion and work are truly inspiring.

M: Welcome to our course on "Exploring English Literature". This course is designed to provide an in-depth understanding of various literary periods, authors, and forms in English literature. We will cover a wide range of texts, from the classics of Shakespeare to modern works. Throughout the course, you will develop critical thinking through discussions and essays. The course grade is composed of several parts: attendance is important and accounts for 20%. The final paper, due on the last day of class, is the most significant part, contributing 45% to your grade. The seminar presentation, which you will give in the middle of the semester, is worth 20%. Class participation makes up the remaining 15%. Please note that all assignments must be submitted via our online learning platform. Late submissions will result in a 10% reduction per day. The final paper must be original. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated and will lead to a failing grade for the assignment.
