第四部分 写作(共两节,满分 40 分)

第一节 (满分 15 分)

One possible version:

Dear fellow students,

So privileged are we that today Professor Smith will deliver a lecture themed How to Read and Enjoy a Dramatic Play for us. Therefore, please allow me to represent us students to express our heartfelt gratitude and warm welcome to him.

During this lecture, not only will Professor Smith share with us how to read a play from the basic elements of a play, but he will also lead us to dig up the implied meaning of the lines. Most importantly, while enjoying this literary feast, we will surely have a brand-new understanding of a dramatic play.

Moreover, everyone attending this lecture is required to listen carefully, take notes if necessary and positively follow his instructions as requested. Hopefully, we will have a pleasant time together.

That's all. Thank you!

第二节 (满分 25 分)

One possible version:

When Sabrina came home, Philip decided to ask her about the truth. He told Sabrina what her teacher said and asked her why. She explained everything to her father. She knew her father needed money for her mother's illness and he worked too hard every day, so she wanted to do something for the family. She painted some paintings herself and sold them in the street. Luckily, they were welcomed and she earned some money. Philip was moved by what Sabrina did and called the teacher.

After knowing everything, the teacher advised Sabrina to sell her paintings online. Sabrina knew it was a good idea because she no longer needed to cut class to sell her paintings. Sabrina followed the teacher's advice and posted her works onto her social platform. She also made lots of interesting short videos to advertise them. Her teacher and her classmates all supported her online. Soon she gained many fans and her paintings sold well. She helped her family through her own efforts.

M: Hurry up with your breakfast. The school bus will be here soon. You don't want to be late for your exam, right?

W: It's OK, Dad. There's plenty of time. Besides, the driver knows it's exam day, so he will make sure everybody is onboard. (1)

Text 2

M: We need to choose what we want to eat. I think the waiter is getting impatient.

W: It's not my fault. There are so many things on the menu, but I think I've decided now. Call him over. (2)

Text 3

W: Hello, Valley Medical Centre.

M: Hi, would it be possible for me to see Doctor Granger, please? (3)

W: I'm sorry, Doctor Granger has left. I can fit you in with Doctor Morris at 8:00 a. m. on Thursday if that's OK.

M: Yes, that's fine.

Text 4

M: I just had an email from the hotel. They are asking if we enjoyed ourselves there last week.

(4) Plus, they are offering us a discount if we book to stay there again.

W: I'd like to do that. I loved the view from our room and the meals were excellent.

Text 5

W: Once I've finished marking these maths books and sent some grades to the head teacher, (5) I'll make dinner.

M: When will that be? I'm starving.

W: Not too long. How about you go up to your room and do your homework in the meantime?

Text 6

W: Hello, would it be convenient to have a word with you, Mr. Jones? (6)

M: Yes, come into my office. How can I help you, Sophie?

W: Well, this may seem a bit embarrassing, but would it be possible for me to play the lead role in the school play next month? (7)

M: I'm ahead of you, Sophie. I know your ambition is to become an actress and we decided on Monday to give you that role.

W: Thank you so much. I will try my best. I won't let you down.

M: Good girl. I trust you.

Text 7

M: Hi Pauline, (8) what are you up to?

W: Hi John, (9) I've brought some paints for the children to play with. I have a long roll of paper and we are going to paint a very long picture together. (8)

M: Oh dear, that sounds like it will be very messy indeed. I hope their parents don't complain about their school uniforms being ruined. (9)

W: Don't worry. I thought about that. I've asked each of them to bring one of their dad's old shirts to wear over the top, to protect their clothes.

M: Good thinking. I look forward to seeing the results.

W: Everyone will see the painting. I plan to put it up on the wall of the school hall for the parents' evening tomorrow. (10)

M: Great. I'm sure it will be very colourful.

W: I think it's pretty certain that it will be.

Text 8

W: Ah, Philip, (11) (12) (13) you're back. What did you think about your tour to the castle today? (11)

M: It was great. I really enjoyed it. (11)

W: Was it just your class that went?

M: No, it was all the third year. The fourth year went to a farm and the second year went to a factory, so I think we got the best deal.

W: You like history, don't you?

M: Definitely. Do you know the walls of the castle were ten feet thick in places?

W: Amazing! That must be why it's stood there for so long.

M: I'm going to read all about those times. Things were really different then. (12) They were wild.

W: They say the past is a foreign country.

M: What does that mean?

W: It means we can't understand what happened in the past by comparing it to today.

M: Maybe that's right.

W: There was a great TV series about history a few years ago. It was called The Passage of Time. You should find it on your computer. (13)

M: I will.

Text 9 (第 16 题、17 题为推断题)

W: Hi John, (14) how are you?

M: I'm great, Liz. (15) Nice to hear from you. What can I do for you?

W: I suppose you've heard that Jonathan Charles is performing at the City Theatre this evening. (14)

M: Of course. My wife and I are going. He's our favourite singer, but I'm surprised a big star like him is performing at such a small theatre. (14) Aren't you going to see him?

W: Well, that's why I'm calling you. (15) I was supposed to be going with my friend Alice in her car, but she's ill and she can't go. I was wondering if you could give me a lift. (15)

M: Of course we can. We'll call for you at your house, say 7 p. m. ?

W: Well, actually I was planning to go straight from work.

M: Oh, right. You work in the city centre, don't you?

W: Yes. Would you be able to pick me up here on your way in?

M: Of course. No problem. I'll see you there at 7 p. m.

W: That's really nice of you, John. I owe you a favour.

M: Think nothing of it. My pleasure.

Text 10 (第 18 题为总结题)

What an incredible experience it is to be able to fluently speak a foreign language! When we learn a foreign language, we are always a little curious. And we feel proud to be finally able to talk with someone in their language. As well as learning the language, we can discover another culture and open our minds to a different way of thinking. Today, I can speak different languages fluently: English, Spanish and French. Since I learned them, I feel like it is even easier for me to learn other languages. I feel like my brain has been to the gym. Learning a foreign language is a daily process. I moved to Algeria five years ago, and I've been teaching English two years later. (19) I learned how to be more self-confident. I became more imaginative in teaching English to my students. (20) I also figured out how to find a good balance between being friendly and being respected at the same time. I learned how to be more playful with the kids, and how to push my students to think. It is great to be part of their learning process as a teacher.
