M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now, you can have the first month free.

Dear Chris,

I am writing to share with you a photography exhibition I participated in last week. Organized by my school's cultural club, the exhibition was intended to celebrate Mid-Autumn Festival. I showcased a photo titled "Moonlit Harmony", which captured a traditional lantern festival scene. The photo featured colorful lanterns floating in the night sky and families enjoying traditional moon cakes, with the full moon shining brightly above.

The experience was truly memorable. It was wonderful to see so many people appreciating the beauty of our culture. Sharing my work and hearing others' feedback were incredibly rewarding. I hope you will get a chance to experience something similar someday!

I hope to hear from you soon!

Yours sincerely,

Li Hua

Inspired by Tara's generosity, Jeff felt a surge of warmth and decided to return the favor. That night, he put his cooking skills to the test, preparing his own key lime pie with care. He remembered Tara's words and wanted to match her thoughtful gesture with something equally special. The next day, Jeff and his family returned to the dessert shop. As they walked in, Tara spotted them immediately, her face lighting up with recognition. "Hey! You're back!" she exclaimed, her excitement obvious.

Jeff smiled and handed Tara a box. "We wanted to thank you for the pie. We brought you one of mine to enjoy. I hope you like it!" Tara's eyes widened in surprise. She opened the box, and as she saw the homemade pie, tears welled up in her eyes. "Oh, this is so sweet of you. I can't believe it!" she said, her voice trembling with emotion. They shared a big hug. It felt like a genuine connection. What started as a simple conversation about dessert blossomed into a touching story of generosity and connection, reminding everyone involved that even the smallest acts of kindness can create ripples of joy and community.
